

Kindergarten "Word" Power

Each kindergarten student is given a strip of paper with the color words below. They bring it with them to the computer lab.

red blue green yellow pink black brown purple

The student opens Word.

Then, they type each word and change the font to Comic Sans, the size to 20, and the font color to match the word.

EXAMPLE:

red blue green yellow

pink purple black brown

When finished, they may type their name in any color they want...even in rainbow colors! You may allow them to choose a different font if you wish.

Kindergarteners love doing this. It is a great way to encourage two hands on the keyboard as well as left and right "sides" of the keyboard, with no hands crossing over.
