

BATS!

By _____

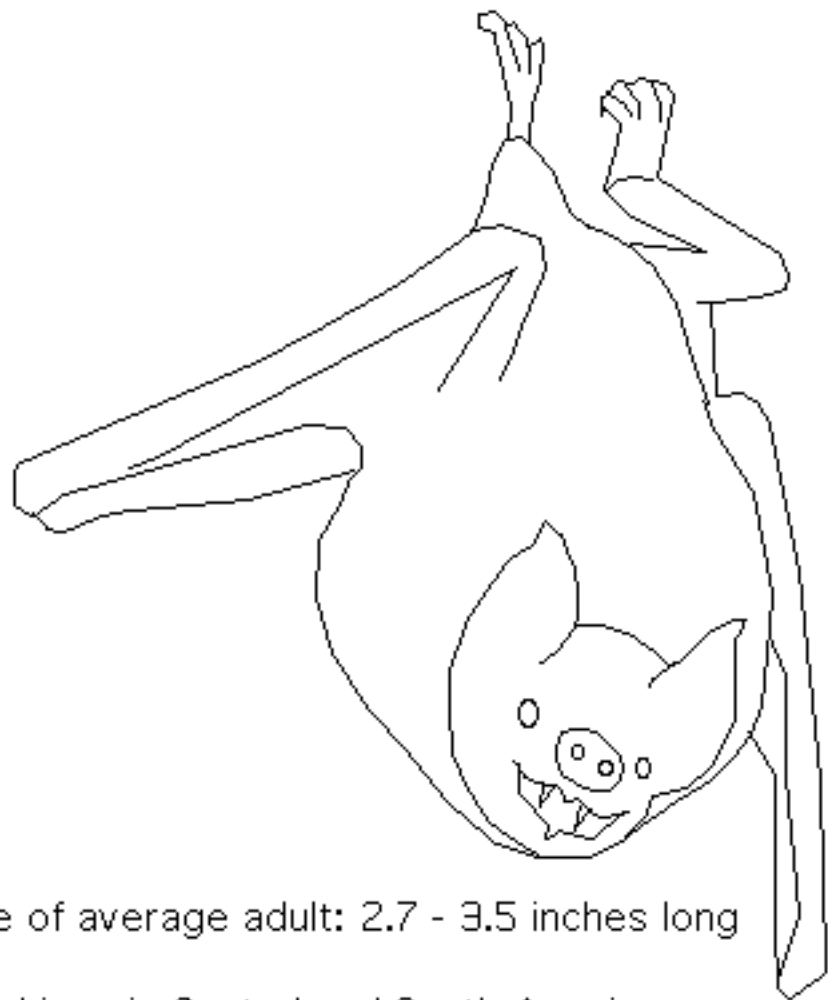

Connect the Dots

Vampire Bat

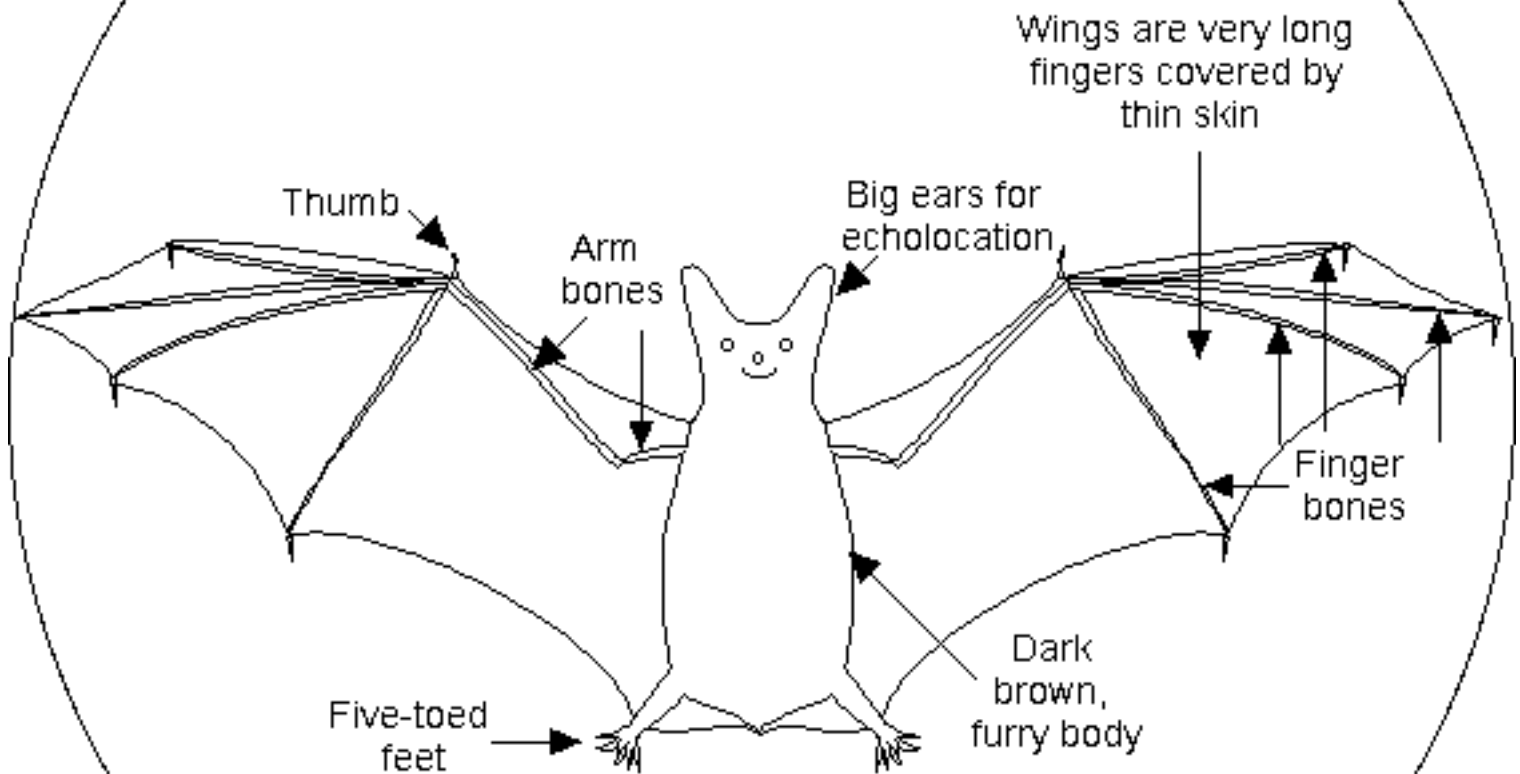

Desmodus rotundas

Size of average adult: 2.7 - 3.5 inches long

Lives in Central and South America

Bat Anatomy

Bat Facts

Bats are the only flying mammals.

Bats are nocturnal; they are most active at night.

Bats sleep during the day hanging upside-down.

Some bats use echolocation to find insects and small animals to eat.

Some bats use their sense of smell to find their food, fruit and/or nectar.

There are over 900 different species of bats.

The vampire bat is the only bat that drinks blood.

Bat Questions

Are bats mammals? _____

Are bats more active during the day or during the night? _____

Do bats hang upside-down when they sleep? _____

Do some bats eat insects? _____

What bat drinks blood? _____

Do some bats eat fruit? _____